

Patrick Fraser

DIPL. ARCH. TECH

PROJECT MANAGER / URBAN DESIGNER NAK DESIGN STRATEGIES

Patrick's diverse experience in urban design, community planning, landscape architecture, resort master planning and architecture have helped him develop an innovative approach to a broad range of projects. His technical skills compliment his theoretical knowledge enabling him to work efficiently through a design process. He provides project support, coordination and leadership to the team in a wide range of projects including urban space, landscape master plans, community design including multi-family and commercial site planning, visioning, public participation, ski resort master planning, residential architecture, design visualization and graphic design.

His appreciation for vernacular, sustainable and biophilic design is regularly articulated in his work and believes that the most successful designs are those created from a collaborative approach.
